DEDICATION

This year, we, the eighth grade of 1965, would like to dedicate "The Tiger Tales" to our new headmaster, Mr. Esty Foster, Jr.

Mr. Foster received a B.A. from Williams and an M.A. from Hofstra. He was a member of the Senior Honorary Society, and the sports editor of his college newspaper. Mr. Foster has a beautiful wife, Nina, and five children. His numerous hobbies are camping, hiking, canoeing, carpentry, and reading history.

To every student in Ensworth, Mr. Foster stands for authority, cheerfulness, dignity, sincerity, and above all friendliness. He is a truly wonderful man and one whom we shall always remember!

Oh, dear! The ball sure is heavy today!

Aw, fiddle! Yew don't want my picture!

She floats through the air with the greatest of ease.....

Wheeeeee!!!

O.K. who's going in as monster-man?

I'm a national merit scholar, I am!

Shhhhh! He only helped me a little in math last night!

Little Red Riding Hood?

Heavens to Betsy! Yew don't say!

The claw strikes again!

My name is Miss Turtle.... uh Graff.

Smile when you say that, poonuh!

Gee, how did you know we're sisters?

MRS. HENDERSON'S Seventh Grade

A Description of 7H

A room at times with books on the floor, with shelves full of papers and pencils galore.
A teacher with red hair imported from Scotland who leaves an impression not soon forgotten.
A room of giggles, laughter, and cheer,
all make it easier to bear the year.
A room of gay sounds,
girls acting like clowns.
A room of whispers, winks, and a comment,
usually of boys that brings on enjoyment.
We've carved a path for the next 7th grade and we hope that they will have it made.
To see you next year as the new eighth grade,
and hope we'll lead a gay promenade.

MR. SAWYER'S SEVENTH GRADE

The seventh grade boys' homeroom is unique this year because it brought to Ensworth 18 new students. The other four members of the group were Ensworth veterans.

Because of the new members the class had some problems such as adjustment to a new school,getting lost,not being able to find the correct room or class, not knowing the rules,being quiet, and learning to become an Ensworth student. Most of these problems have been overcome now and this class has become well adjusted to Ensworth.

The year has been sprinkled with many worthwhile activites and events. All the boys participated in the athletic program,many making excellent contributions. The Christmas party given by Mrs.Smith,was fun for all and everyone had a lot of fun planning,practicing, and putting on the assembly program.

This year has been one of learning and contribution for this class and all are looking forward to next year (as long as the cafeteria is here).

MR. AKIN'S Sixth Grade

'65 was a good year
And so was '64
We all hope to be back next year
To learn more and more

The Mr.,Miss,and Mrs.of this school
Always had the upper hand
In the "Golden Rule"
We bid you all adieu!

Sports was a challenge
In baseball and in hockey
With the sports director
As our discjockey

Karen was called "Fatty"
And Cary was very chatty
Roberta was the board chalk
While Tom was on "Boardwalk"

Of the new guy
There was a Foster
In came Hales
And then we lost her

This tale is mostly
Of a six grade gang
Who made this year
Go off with a bang

Oh, yes, Mr. Akin
Our bachelor in disguise
He was ever and always
Our ears and our eyes

The proud 6A's will always keep
Old Ensworth's flag flying
And our team and their battles
In our hearts from dying!

1st row: 1-r: Anne Sherman, Corinne Fowler, Marjorie Van Sicklen, Jamie Stifler, Larry Trabue, Charley Morrison, Tee Zerfoss. 2nd row: 1-r: Chrissie McClure, Sarah Beasley, Meredith Green, Grace Riddell, Ricky Rodgers, Robert Corenswet, Steve Sanders. 3rd row: 1-r: Ben Wagner, Susanne Sinclair-Smith, Gigi Plaxico, Sue Sadler, Mr. Bonneville, Bill Summers, Ham Wallace, Tom McMillin, Chris Berry. Absent: Hunter Armistead.

MR. BONNEVILLE'S Sixth Grade

Many things have happened so far this year,
Things that have brought us both joy and fear.
Exams didn't please us, not very much,
And neither did other things, as such.
The pencil sharpener broke, and the second hand skipped,
From all these tragedies, we nearly flipped.
When good old athletics came around,
We jumped with joy, and pawed the ground.
And effort was put out by each girl and boy,
As the Orange and Black teams rushed to deploy.
The hockey team though sometimes in error,
Was peopled by lassies that seldom were fairer.
The football teams seemed to be rougher,
And the boys who played, seemed to be tougher.
Teachers are okay, but homework is bad,
I guess you all think the year has been sad.
But it has also been fun and delightful for all,
Since school first started, way back in the fall.
With plays and field trips, Beatles and cheer;
We now look back on a wonderful year.

MRS. HOGUE'S Fifth Grade

Le Cercle 1964-65

A Philosophical Approach

Sunlight streamed through the window as shadows of dancing leaves played over heads of red, blonde and black. Eyes of personalities new to me and each other looked about seeking the familiar - be it form or verbal.

A Realistic Approach

There are 21 monster fans, aspiring scientists and future political leaders all gathered in our room.

The year was brightened by a trip to Cheekwood which resulted in leaf identification experts and prematurely bare bushes in back yards.

Dr. Sell proved to us that there can be good bacteria and bad bacteria, which resulted in much conjecture about the bacteria growing on a potato medium placed on the science table. All agreed that there was no danger of beginning germ warfare with our particular speciman.

Oh Canada! Shall we ever forget the Acadians? No, never, for if we should, our deepest sub-conscious would constantly recall the lines memorized for our historical (play?).

"Hear ye, Hear ye! Tis my sad duty to inform ye that ye must leave this land by the order of majesty the king of England."

"Vous êtes fous!"

Maintenant nous sommes fous!

A Philosophical Approach

A deep sense of rapport and security prevail and the silver filigree noted through the frosted pane simply completes the mood of being in one's proper place. The calendar promises that the crocus spotted yesterday will be followed by "days of milk and daisies". The completeness of the cycle will soon be fulfilled and we share the feeling of this completeness with satisfaction, for never must the circle be left open.

MRS. LOKEY'S Fifth Grade

A group of twenty-six boys and girls with cheeks of tan ended a well utilized vacation to begin the 1964-65 school year in their new room designated by 5L. Each was ready to welcome the new experiences a new grade and new teachers would provide.

In addition to their regular classwork, field trips were taken to Cheekwood to study trees and leaves, to the museum and to the observatory to study the stars and planets, and movies were brought to the classroom for audio visual aids. A number of guest teachers were also brought to the classroom for interesting talks and demonstrations.

The Assembly play presented in February by the fifth grades incorporated their work in history, art, and music, and their voices added much to the Christmas Sing.

The fifth grade boys demonstrated their ability on the gridiron and the school proudly displays a trophy for their accomplishment.

MISS CUNNINGHAM'S
Fourth Grade

Fourth grade frolics are almost done
We've tried most everything under the sun!

From brisk September to frantic May,
We've been a class fun-loving and gay,
Years from now, with fourth grade long past,
This page we'll treasure to hold memories fast.

Orange and black games, art work in clay,
Mr. Brown's math class, exciting field day,
The fun of folk-dancing, American history,
Science experiments cleared many a mystery;
Chattering in French (but usually in English!)
Parts of speech were sometimes fiendish,
Quite a production was our class play,
Many hidden talents it did betray.

These things we'll remember, plus a hundred more,
Now we'll ring down the curtain on year number 4!

1st row: 1-r: Carrie Griscom, Vernon Hutton, David McAlister, Carol Stoney. 2nd row: 1-r: Palmer Alexander, Cathy Sherman, Edwards Park, Diana Figuers, Susie Helme. 3rd row: 1-r: Debbie Dicker, Emily Schull, Laura Silverman, Mike Redditt. 4th row: 1-r: Clay Caroland, Sylvia Moore, Dudley Creighton, John Wampler. 5th row: 1-r: Bill Shell, Timmy Douglas, Jan Liff, Christopher McClure, Mrs. Michael, Robbie McDowell.

MRS. MICHAEL'S Fourth Grade

Here we are in the upper school at last,
We've had lots of fun in this year's class.
Twenty-two darling little trolls,
Struggled to learn what's writ
in the scrolls.
We went to the symphony twice
this year,
When the performance was over
we all did cheer.
Notebooks and scrapbooks
demanded much time.
Our poetry notebooks taught us to rhyme.
The experiment we did with the beans in a group,
Increased our respect for hot navy bean soup.
Our classes in French
were very tre gai,
We all enjoyed learning
To parlé Francais.
The boys and girls took separate gym courses.
We all played hard and got Charlie horses.
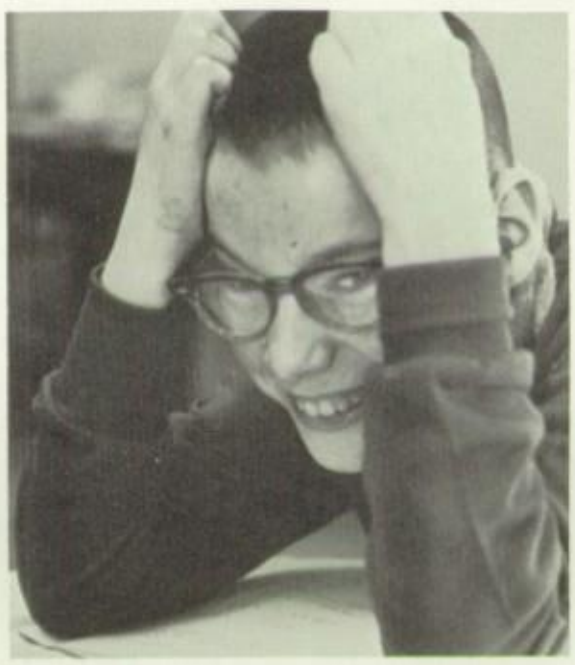
Heigh ho, heigh ho,
It's off to fifth we go.
We've memories galore,
Of our year in four.



1st row: l-r: Cary Helme, Jody Hutton, Robin Nichols, Rebecca Nelson, Wade Cowan, Sally Tanner; 2nd row: l-r: Thomas Pennington, Richard Innes, Chevis Waller, Joan Zanone, Jimmy Harbison, Will Akers, Walter Morgan; 3rd row: l-r: Walker Mathews, John Elam, Nelson Hester, Shellie Sumner, Alice Roos, Jana Talbot, Currey Turner, Devery Feldman, Billy Brothers, Timmy Cummings. Mrs. Fowlkes.

MRS. FOWLKES' Third Grade

Remember?
Walker's impish grin?
Thomas and the Indian skull?
Richard's scientific experiments?
Sally's birthday book?
Jody's shadow-box picture made of shells?
Timmy as King Agamemnon?
Nelson winning 1st place at the State Fair for his monsters?
Robin's giggles and interesting stories?
Will with a suntan in January?
Billy's absorbing interest in his collections?
Shellie as the lovely Helen of Troy?
Jana's queenly grace?
John's twinkling brown eyes?
Currey as a Greek goddess?
Alice and one more question?
Chevis with the elfin smile?
Cary's clever poems?
Joan's beautiful pictures?
Becky's exquisite face and perfect manners?
Wade's red hair and wise-cracks?
Jimmy's cheerful smile?
Devery's sweet ways and soft voice?
Walter's interest in and consideration for his classmates?
And - our trip to Mammoth Cave?

Absent: Johnny Bransford.

MISS GILLIAM'S Third Grade

With the coming of September,
From the mountain, lake, and nook,
Homeward once again our paths,
Back to Ensworth School we took.

We are a group of happy youngsters,
Gay and lively, quick, and true,
Ready for each task at hand,
Girls a dozen and boys less two.

A high point of the year,
About which we really rave,
When two sleek buses arrived,
And off we went to Mammoth Cave.

We've been quite a bit involved,
With homework, music, art,
Athletics, plays, assemblies,
Much learning did these impart.

And now grade three has ended,
And it's time to close the door,
But briefly, then widely open to
New adventures in grade four.

MISS CRONAN'S Second Grade

Happiness is found in little things. Happiness is something new. In September the something that was new was second grade and the someone that was new was Miss Carolyn.

Happiness is meeting a friendly witch, and our own friendly witch came to our room at Halloween. She had blue fingernails, a tall black hat and a soft, spooky voice. She made Halloween happy by telling our fortunes that came from her magic pumpkin. At Christmas we had a happy time. At our party we had to blow out a Santa Claus candle. You think that is easy??? How about having had a blindfold on and having made ten revolutions.

Happiness is a sunbeam. The sunbeams retained their golden glow on into the night at Christmas Sing. The second grade spread the sweetest sunshine of all to the strains of The Sunshine Song.

Happiness is cursive writing, a grown up tablet, and a "skinny pencil". A trip away from school to some special place in the city and a class play are for future happiness.

Happiness is third grade in view. With eagerness and enthusiasm we all look forward to the future. We cast a happy glance over our shoulder at the first part of grade two and expect many happy times for the remainder of the year.

MISS MADDUX'S Second Grade

Early September brought twenty-two nice youngsters to second grade. All very quiet and well-mannered,they seemed determined to do their best to please their new teacher. She,in turn, was overjoyed with their attitude toward their work, their classmates and certainly toward her.

Excellence in the "3-R's",science,English,spelling and phonics seemed to be their aim. Being avid readers,they voted reading their favorite subject but every new process in modern math and any topic related to science fascinated each one of them,and the mere mention of writing a story set their minds awhirl and their little fingers dancing.

Looking back over the special events,these will linger long in the minds of all of us: getting to know our wonderful new headmaster,Mr.Lokey's talk on "electricity,"the fabulous parties given by our mothers at Christmas,Halloween and Valentines, our"Sewing bee"when we made Christmas presents for our moms and dads,sharing Christmas with less fortunate children,our December devotionals for chapel,our part in the Christmas Sing,Mr.Harbison's talk on"water,"our trip to the U.S.Post Office, and the many hours of fun spent with Mrs.Haven, Mrs.Edwards and Mrs. Collins.

With spring around the corner we have such things to anticipate as our class play, the poetry contest, April chapel devotionals, Field Day, a class picnic, and then the last school day of 1964-1965.

All of this besides the fun of everyday living together, learning not only subject matters but how to govern ourselves so as to be better citizens of our pride and joy, Ensworth School.

MISS ELIZABETH'S First Grade

I'm like the old woman
 Who lived in the shoe;
I have twenty-five children
 And sometimes,
 I don't know what to do.

But, we've worked and worked,
 At reading and writing,
And we've learned to be friendly,
 So we have no fighting.

Modern math is confusing
 'Tis sad, but it's true,
And here is one spot,
 That I've tried hard to do.

An excellent job,
 For I'm sure you'll agree
That this is a must,
 To progress happily.

The boys lead in numbers,
 We're sixteen to nine,
And it's been a trial
 To keep them in line.

But the girls, Heaven bless them,
 Have all done their part,
And we've worked on those boys
 Right from the start.

We play and we sing,
 And there's story-time, too,
'Charlotte's Web' is a favorite,
 We like poetry, too.

For some it's quite easy
 To hear letters talk,
For others it's hard work,
 But none of us balk.

With phonics we've struggled,
 And it's plain to see;
By the end of the year,
 We shall all be home-free!

MRS. SHELL'S Kindergarten

Some came in so quickly and found a seat,
While others lingered at the door.
It wasn't all easy that first school experience,
Not knowing what we were looking for.

Before long all found familiar faces,
And new friends were made the first day.
Much was to be learned and discovered,
As we came to Ensworth to listen and play.

We learned to read and exclaimed,
"I didn't know I could read that!"
Soon we knew each letter by name,
We can work with numbers of objects,
And like most Dr. Seus' Cat in the Hat.

School is like climbing a ladder,
So don't miss a step and get behind.
That would be like counting to 10,
And leaving out the nine.
So make sure you are a good listener,
And be ready next year in the first.
Pay attention to me and heed this advice,
And you'll end up far from the worst.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL GRADE 7 & 8

CAPTAIN CASEY REED (19) WITH ALTERNATE CAPTAINS KARL HAMILTON (24) AND TOM SUMMERS (60).

Ensworth 21	Parmer 7
Ensworth 15	Cavert 0
Ensworth 6	Overton 0
Ensworth 14	East Jr. High 6
Ensworth 35	West Jr. High 7
Ensworth 13	MBA 18
Ensworth 35	BGA 7

Coach Akin and fellow coaches Sawyer and Newman deserve a great deal of credit for the tremendous job they did with this year's team. The only blemish, if it can be called that after the way our team played MBA off its feet most of the game, was the heartbreaking defeat in the final seconds by MBA. The boys on the team also deserve a great deal of praise for the job they did throughout the season. The rock-ribbed defense was led by that master of mayhem, Karl Hamilton, and he was greatly assisted by that genial giant, Tom Summers. The offense was headed by captain Casey Reed who seemed to be able to take three strides and cover the length of the field.

Coached by Mr. Newman and Mr. Bonneville the fifth grade team tied for the championship. Donald Cowan was probably the finest back in the league and scored well over 100 points. Jimmy Hamilton and Scott Collins also stood out on offense and Harold Seligman, Clive Sell, and Billy Knox were exceptional on defense.

The boy's varsity basketball team under Coach Newman learned a great deal this past season. Starting off at a very slow pace, Coach Newman for a good while did a good deal of rotating his players about in an attempt to find the magic combination that would make the team jell as a unit. Finally,however,he settled on the same five that started the season and at their same positions,i.e.Karl Hamilton at center,Bruce Jones and Casey Reed at forwards and Leonard Herrington and Bill Earthman at guards.

At the end though it was still apparent to all that the team could be very dull and ragged with their play at times.It was equally apparent that the team when all was right could give any team fits and they frequently did. Perhaps the greatest improvement was shown in the play of Karl Hamilton and Casey Reed who developed a scoring touch to go with their talents off the boards and who at the end were sorely pressing Bruce Jones for the right of being considered the top player on the club(Bruce won the MVP award).

We wish all the boys good luck and with a heavy heart we say so long to Mr. Newman who is leaving to join the ranks of the college coachs.To say we will miss him goes without saying for as the wise old owl said they don't hardly make them like that any more.

BASKETBALL 7 & 8

The girls team suffered greatly through most of the season from a very common malady and hence wound up losing more games than they won. The malady,not being able to put the big,round ball through the hoop with any degree of regularity.

Sue Ann McCotter,Camille Harlin, and Beth Tanner played many good moments at guardand Carol Fippinger, Sally Dorris,Judy Quinn, Eleanor Whitworth,Martha Sanders,Margaret Weaver, and Shirley Douglas all managed at one time or another to look either very good or somewhat less than that. Well,let's look forward to next year.

BASKETBALL
GRADE 5

Mr. Bonneville coached both fifth grade teams. The Orange team played hot and cold basketball and wound up with a four and three record. Mark Beveridge,Clive Sell, and Louie Buntin generally played outstanding ball for the Oranges.

The Black team ended up with a losing season. This was mainly due to a lack of tallness on the team. Scott Collins and Rip Trammell did outstanding work for the Blacks.

BLACK CAPTAINS

As Black captains we have been very proud to lead our team throughout the year. We are proud of the enthusiastic support and participation that the Blacks of '65 have shown thus far.

You should be commended for your outstanding sportsmanship and team spirit. You should be very proud of your numerous achievements throughout the year. In all fields of endeavor you have worked hard and the combined effort of everyone in both sports and scholastics has spelled VICTORY in many cases. For example Sandy Feustel,Martha Schull,Jim Lokey,Connie Graff,Joe Linn, Jamie Stifler,Jane Gwinn and Burns Foster have excelled in scholastics. Bruce Jones,Tom Summers,Camille Harlin,Eleanor Whitworth,Betsy Weiland, Sue Ann McCotter and Kyle Young have shown exceptional ability in the field of sports.

Of course the names mentioned are but just a few of many who have contributed to the team effort. Therefore, we would like to thank all members of our team for the whole-hearted cooperation which you have shown us and the other members of the team.

We would also like to congratulate the Orange team for being most worthy opponents, and we feel sure that tougher competition could not be found anywhere.

CAROL and CASEY

ORANGE CAPTAINS

We are very fortunate to have the honor of being Orange captains this year. Although the Blacks have compiled more points in scholastic achievement, we feel that we have more than equalled them on the athletic field. We are especially proud of the 4th, 5th and 6th graders for their victories in football and basketball. We thank Donald Cowan, Clive Sell,Steve Sanders, Tom Earthman,Brant Lipscomb,Tee Zerfoss,Rick Philpot,Sue Sadler,Gigi Plaxico, Shirley Douglas,Martha Sanders,Margaret Weaver,Ann Fippinger,Beth Tanner, Brett Hall,Robert Smith, Rob Barrick,Karl Hamilton,Bill Earthman,Neely Coble, Mart Nunnelley,Jeff Katz,Sally Dorris,and Tina Cummings for their achievement on the athletic field. For the Honor Roll, Kenny Cohen,Lucia Howard,Jim Alderman, and Beth Tanner have done an outstanding job. We'd especially like to congratulate Kenny Cohen and Lucia Howard for the X-Honor Roll. The competitive spirit has been tremendous on both sides this year. We wish you good luck to both teams, and may the best team win!
